("Cantono" or the "Company")

17 September 2008

Cantono is pleased to announce that its new, high density, high capacity South Coast Data Centre has become operational following the successful recent relocation of part of its own infrastructure and the infrastructure of some of its customers from the data centre in East London.

The relocation took place recently over two weekend periods.

Chief Executive, Eamus Halpin, commented:

"This was the first step in commissioning our new data centre. It is a very exciting time for us and the relocation exercise enabled the team responsible to gain valuable experience and confidence."
